

This Code of Conduct Applies To All Directors, Officers, and Employees

This Code of Conduct and Ethics (the "Code") applies to all directors, officers, and employees of Covenant Transportation Group, Inc. and its subsidiaries (together, the "Company"). It also applies to all directors, officers, and employees of the Company's controlled affiliates and employees who serve as directors or officers (or an equivalent position) of any non-controlled affiliate.

This Code is part of the terms and conditions of each employee's employment with the Company; provided, however, the Code does not create an express or implied employment contract and is not intended to be interpreted as a contract. To the contrary, it presents guidelines and constitutes a statement of principles to which all of us are held accountable.

General Statement

The Company is committed to the highest standards of ethical and professional conduct. This Code establishes basic standards of business practice, as well as professional and personal conduct, that are expected of all directors, officers, and employees. These standards require honesty and candor in the Company's activities. The Company's executive officers and members of its financial management team also are subject to the Quarterly Financial Integrity Statement. For additional information, please refer to the Company's Employee Handbook and any supplements thereto. The Company expects all directors, officers, and employees to abide not only by the "letter" but also the "spirit" of the Code.

This Code also sets forth procedures for bringing complaints or issues before management or the Audit Committee on a confidential, anonymous basis. You should review the procedures carefully.

Basic Principles of Ethical Corporate Conduct

Because the Company is judged by the performance and public perception of its directors, officer, and employees, each director, officer, and employee has a responsibility always to act in a manner that merits public trust and confidence consistent with the highest standards expected of directors, officers, and employees of a publicly owned corporation.

The principles set forth below are basic principles that must be followed:

1. Be honest, fair and trustworthy in all relationships in carrying out your duties for the Company.
2. Avoid actual and apparent conflicts of interest between work and your personal interests, and if there are any such conflicts or potential conflicts, seek approval beforehand from the Company's Corporate Compliance Department, or if you are an officer, from the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors.
3. Obey all applicable laws, rules and regulations governing the Company's business, wherever it is conducted, and do not take any action, either personally or on behalf of the Company, that violates any such law or any other significant law or regulation, the violation of which would reflect poorly on you or the Company. Do not take advantage of the Company, its employees, customers, vendors, or suppliers or any other third parties.

4. Treat the Company's property and funds with the same care and respect you would treat your own property and funds. The Company's property and funds belong to its stockholders. Do not improperly charge rates or service charges and do not fail to charge for services the Company renders.
  5. Foster an atmosphere in which personal integrity and fair dealing is part and parcel of what you do.
  6. Be honest and candid with regard to all reporting of financial results. Be timely and accurate in all your reporting tasks and activities. Do not change or alter numbers or facts to make yourself or someone else look better. Always express and report the truth.
  7. Be loyal to the Company. Do not –
    - a. Deprive the Company of an opportunity;
    - b. Take for your own advantage an opportunity that belongs to the Company; or
    - c. Help others violate (a) or (b), if they are in a position to divert a Company opportunity for their own benefit.
  8. Keep confidential information about the Company and its customers, which may include freight rates, Company or customer financial information, pricing policies, the identity of customers, trade secrets, and proprietary information confidential, both while you are employed and after you leave the Company. Do not use or attempt to use any such information for your personal advantage or for the benefit of the Company's competitors.
  9. Business gifts and entertainment are courtesies designed to build goodwill and sound working relationships among business partners. We do not, however, want to obtain business through improper means as to gain any special advantage in a relationship. Business gifts that compromise, or even appear to compromise, our ability to make objective and fair business decisions are inappropriate. Simply stated, offering or accepting bribes, kick backs or pay-offs is always prohibited.

The issue of gifts and gratuities may have legal implications when the government, a government entity, or other regulated entity is involved, and serious consequences can result from mishandling these relationships.

The decision to offer or accept gifts or entertainment should be made only in compliance with legal and ethical requirements, and with the involvement of a manager if unsure of the appropriate course.
  10. Treat all persons fairly, regardless of such factors as race, religion, gender, disability, age or national origin. Adhere to fair employment practices. Extend courtesy to every employee, customer, vendor, and supplier of the Company.
  11. Be thoroughly familiar with, adhere to and fully comply with all Company policies and procedures, including, without limitation, this Code, the Quarterly Financial Integrity Statement, the Company's Insider Trading Policy, the Company's Reporting Procedures for Accounting Matters, and other standards of conduct.

12. Conduct business in a way that protects the health and safety of the Company employees, other people, and the environment. Employees should act in a manner that ensures compliance with all applicable governmental and private health, safety, and environmental requirements, including contributing to an alcohol- and drug-free workplace.
13. Invest the time necessary to learn your job thoroughly and learn from your colleagues who have more experience in the transportation business.
14. Promptly report to your supervisor or the Corporate Compliance Department (or, if appropriate, the Audit Committee) any irregularities or apparent wrongdoing, including violations of the matters listed in this section and all facts surrounding any such incident.
15. Do not withhold, misrepresent or misconstrue facts or information when reporting any matter to your supervisor or superior or reporting violations of this Code or any other standards of conduct to your supervisor, the Corporate Compliance Department, or the Audit Committee.
16. Any Company employee who is in possession of material, non-public information concerning the Company's financial condition, operations, properties or prospects may not purchase or sell the Company's stock until two (2) business days after that information has been publicly disclosed. Material, non-public information is information about the Company an investor would consider important that has not been publicly disclosed, either by the Company or otherwise.

The Company's Insider Trading Policy maintains prevalence over the above general statement when dealing with Directors, Section 16 Officers other employees subject to quarterly blackout periods and mandatory pre-clearance of trades as listed and maintained in the Company's Insider Trading Policy.

Examples of Conduct That Violates This Code

The following are examples of conduct that violates this Code:
